JUST VIEWS: a Free & Open Monthly Video/ Discussion Program

Friday, June 8, 2007 at 7:20 pm -- When "Intelligence" Isn't So . . .

Tonight's PBS documentary details how, starting before 9/11/2001, secret information uncovered and shaped by certain government agencies has been controlled and leaked to "sell the public" on courses of action devised by powerful leadership groups. This Frontline investigation of The Dark Side of intelligence reveals how USA V.P. Cheney and Defense Secretary Rumsfeld were among neoconservatives who tried to use the War on Iraq as part of a broader plan to remake the Middle East and assert American power worldwide. It studies struggles for dominance among the various CIA, Pentagon, and other intelligence gathering and interpreting agencies, some "cherry picking" and twisting of facts, and the uncomfortable circumstances under which George Tenet and Colin Powell resigned. Drawing on extensive film clip archives, it shows how USA agents and contractors have used various methods such as payoffs to warlords, rendition, torture and prolonged confinement without charge -- and the results produced. Our discussion will probe into the "intelligence" of the ends and means employed.
